Are you addicted to fast food? The term "fast food" generally refers to food that people intend to consume quickly, either on- or off-site. Swinging through a drive-thru or hopping into your favourite fast-food restaurant tends to happen more often than not. While an occasional night of fast food won't hurt, a habit of eating out could be wreaking havoc on your mind and body. There is ample well-researched evidence demonstrating the various negative effects of eating and overeating fast food, in both the short and long term.

Many fast-food establishments now list the number of calories each item contains. However, this is only part of the consideration of whether it is healthy or not. Fast food is typically poor in terms of nutrition. It is high in sugar and salt and has many processed preservatives. However, not all fast food is unhealthy. A person can make an informed choice by reading the nutritional content of any fast food item. People can find this information on the websites of most major restaurants.

Nights Out Festival 2022

1 to 30 November

The annual event is back with an exciting line-up of activities for you to engage in with your family and friends at night!

Participation in outdoor activities is free.

Entry tickets are required only for the concert venues and museum.

Buskers

Talented magicians, puppeteers and acrobats will provide hours of entertainment every night under the stars! More than ten food and drinks stalls will be set up. Come hungry and check out what they have in store for you!

Outdoor Art Maze

You would not want to miss this interactive display put together by ten visually impaired students. To find your way through the maze, you can only use your sense of hearing and smell. The experience gives you a taste of the world as experienced by the visually impaired. This activity is open to participants 13 years and above.

Giant Sandpit and Drone Light Shows

Over the past few months, an outdoor pool was turned into a giant sandpit! During the festival, the sandpit will be lit up after dark so that children between 6 and 13 can build sandcastles in it. They will also get to watch drone light shows put on by the students of Apex Polytechnic every other hour, with the first show starting from 8 p.m. daily.

Concerts

Popular local singers Amir, Jaz Kwa and Priya will be performing live. Tickets are only available online. Visit www.nof.sg early to purchase them before they are sold out!

The Visual Arts Museum

The walls of the Visual Arts Museum were beautifully illuminated most nights from 7 p.m. to 11 p.m. over the past year. The light-ups started on 1 August 2021 in celebration of our nation's birthday, and flashing stars and crescents could be seen the entire month. Since then, interesting light displays – with colours and designs that convey different meanings – have been used to commemorate local festivals and significant events.

During the Nights Out Festival 2022, the museum will mount a stunning light display that promises to mesmerise its spectators. Opening hours are also extended daily to 11.30 p.m. for those who wish to enjoy exploring the museum after dark. Visitors must form a group of 4 and sign up for the guided tours in advance. For more information and to register (before 1 November), visit the museum's website at www.vam.sg.

Light Displays of the Past Year

For each question from 21 to 28, four options are given. One of them is the answer. Make your choice (1, 2, 3 or 4). Shade the correct oval (1, 2, 3 or 4) on the Optical Answer Sheet. (8 marks)

Please note that the passage for Comprehension questions 71 to 80 in Booklet B is on the next page. You may now go on to Booklet B.

Refer to the passage below when you answer questions 71 to 80 in Booklet B. (20 marks)

To me, Grandma's house was my second home. I had spent my entire childhood living at Grandma's and I used to visit her often even through adulthood. Standing at the front door, I stared at the twisted vines that crept up the exterior of the house, trying to devour the entire structure. Yet it seemed as though this little house stood unshaken against the test of time – just like Grandma. She always stood firm in her beliefs.

I had been here numerous times, yet when I raised my clenched fist to knock on the door, I paused. "Would she recognise me this time round? Would she even let me into the house?" These thoughts had been ringing in my head all morning. Two years ago, Grandma was diagnosed with Alzheimer's disease*, an illness that caused her memory to fail. Thus, remembering names and even recognising the people closest to her were huge challenges and I was not spared.

10

The last time I paid her a visit after she had been diagnosed, she chased me out of the house as she thought I was one of those persistent salespersons. Since then, I only dropped by once every six months as she had become cold and moody. I fondly remembered how warm and loving Grandma was, preparing my favourite meals and always ready to lend a listening ear. Her unconditional love for me was something I treasured.

15

The door creaked open, and Grandma's blank eyes met mine. I looked deep into her eyes, hoping to see the woman who was once full of life. Now, she was a shell of her former self. Her gaze dropped to a photograph of me in her hand. She took another glance at me. Leaving the door open, she walked back into the house. I took that as my cue to enter.

20

The familiarity of the place struck me. I remembered the hint of jasmine in the air. It made me feel at ease, at home. I caught sight of the patchwork quilt that Grandma had painstakingly sewn together for me over months. It was what kept me warm at night during my childhood. Yet a wave of unfamiliarity hit. I looked over at Grandma, still staring blankly at the photograph. I wanted to be a part of Grandma's life once again. I was prepared for battle. I searched for more photographs of our good times together in the hope of jogging her memory. I showed her many videos of us that I had in my mobile phone. I tried all I could.

25

She still gazed blankly at me. The truth was clearer than water. She had no recollection of me at all. Tears welled up in my eyes and threatened to course down my cheeks. My heart shattered. The battle was lost.

30

Not wanting Grandma to notice, I excused myself and ran to the nearby park. I sat under a gigantic tree, obscured from the prying eyes of children at the nearby playground. Tears eventually found their way down my cheeks. I sobbed for the loss of everything; the grandma

I once knew, our shared memories, the love we shared. They were shattered by Alzheimer's, never to be pieced together again. 35

Suddenly, a familiar pair of shoes came into view. I looked up and found Grandma looking down at me. She seemed to have forgotten why she was at the park until she saw my face. "Let's start anew," she said, still holding onto the photograph. "It's a pleasure to meet you. And you are?"

I knew she would forget even this in a matter of time, for the illness would continue to claim her memories. But no matter what, she would still be my beloved grandma, and I could tell that she wanted to persevere and so would I. 40

"Bethany, your granddaughter," I responded, accepting her outstretched hand with a smile. Even if Grandma could not remember the good times we shared, I could. Those memories were mine to keep. Perhaps, the battle was not completely lost. 45

Le Le, the first panda cub born in Singapore, was born to Kai Kai and Jia Jiā on 14 August last year, after the giant pandas' seventh breeding season.

Pandas are adored (29) _____ the world and considered a national treasure in China. Living mainly in temperate forests high in the mountains of southwest China, they survive almost entirely (30) _____ bamboo. They eat around 10 (31) _____ 40 kilogrammes of bamboo every day by using their enlarged wrist bones that function (32) _____ opposable thumbs. Pandas are often seen eating in a relaxed sitting posture, (33) _____ their hind legs stretched out before them. Pandas may appear sedentary, (34) _____ they are actually skilled tree-climbers and efficient swimmers.

A newborn panda is about the size of a stick of butter. Females can grow up to about 90 kilogrammes, while males (35) _____ much bigger and can grow up to 135 kilogrammes as adults. These bears are extremely agile (36) _____ their bulky appearance.

Improved conservation efforts (37) _____ resulted in an increase in the wild panda population. Hundreds more pandas live in breeding centres and zoos where they are always among the most popular attractions.

Le Le made his public debut on 30 December last year and has now joined his mother, Jia Jia, in the exhibit at River Wonders. However, viewing chances depend on the comfort levels (38) _____ both mother and cub. Let's respect their privacy and give them some space to get comfortable with all the attention!

Over the last decade, environmental issues have garnered much attention. Research has shown that climate change and global warming are set to worsen in the future. One of the (51) _____ in which we can slow down the damage and save this beautiful planet is by living sustainably. Contrary to popular (52) _____, going green does not equate to spending more. In fact, you might be (53) _____ more money in the long run.

Recycling is one of the most direct ways to help the environment. It helps curb air pollution caused by landfill sites, cuts back on the need for raw materials, hence helping to conserve many of our scarce natural (54) _____. All you have to do is (55) _____ your waste into two categories — recyclable and non-recyclable. However, it is important to ensure the items you would like to recycle (56) _____ not contaminated with food or liquids. For example, you need to ensure that items such as shampoo bottles and canned drinks are washed (57) _____ they are recycled. Unsure of what you can recycle? You can always look out for the recycling symbol on the packaging.

Also, thanks (58) _____ the ease and instantaneity of communication today, it is no longer a necessity for documents to be in the form of (59) _____. To go paperless, simply opt for your bills and even receipts to be sent to your email accounts. Using less paper means we cut down (60) _____ trees, which results in using less chemicals and water that papermaking demands.

Did you also know that not all bulbs are created equal? The most environmentally (61) _____ option is the light-emitting diodes (LED) bulb which uses the least (62) _____ of energy. Coupled with its considerable lifespan of up to 10 years, choosing to use LED bulbs can go a long way towards conserving resources.

(63) _____ to a study done in 2018, people in Singapore used about 1.76 billion plastic items each year and most are plastic bags from supermarkets. Single-use plastic bags take a (64) _____ on our planet. Hence, it's always good to bring reusable shopping bags when out on a grocery run.

While your personal efforts to go green may seem inconsequential, the combined efforts of the world can make a big (65) _____ in combating environmental issues. Remember, every little bit counts!
